

(上接A18版)

Main table containing multiple columns of financial data, including company names, dates, and various financial metrics. The table is organized into several vertical sections.